

Nexthink Overcomes Geographic Barriers and Celebrates Unsung Heroes

Nexthink, a Technology Recruiting company, needed a way to connect 1,000 employees across 40 countries and help them rally around common goals and values. Acts of recognition were taking place privately within teams and departments, but much of the great work went unnoticed by the wider community.

Gabi Tofani, Talent Management Lead at Nexthink, realized that in order to strengthen bridges between departments and regions, she needed a centralized and visible recognition platform. Enter Bonusly!

One of the most valuable benefits of Bonusly is helping us overcome geographic barriers between employees in different time zones and countries."
